Komune Living & Wellness

In the modern era, there are many trendy new hotel concepts geared towards millennials, but very few that focus on the lifestyle needs of seniors. Now, older guests can experience a new era of hospitality at Komune Living & Wellness, an integrated co-living complex in Kuala Lumpur.

Overlooking a 99-acre public park in the Cheras area of KL, Komune is a haven of natural tranquility. The hotel's mission is to create a "new way of living focused on community, wellness and convenience", and it achieves this by blending accommodation for short or extended stays with medical services and a wealth of amenities for the older generation.

The development offers one of a kind communal spaces, facilities and events designed to bring likeminded individual and travellers together. From indoor and outdoor pools, a jacuzzi, cinema, gym, craft studios, games rooms, a community kitchen and more, guests are provided the opportunity to experience something new every day.

Whether it is for a solo wellness getaway or one with friends and family, Komune Living & Wellness' 863 rooms, ranging from cosy studio rooms, larger en-suites, to even two-bedroom apartments, promise a restful and comfortable stay in an upscale setting.

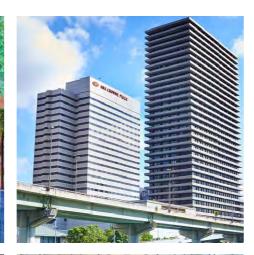

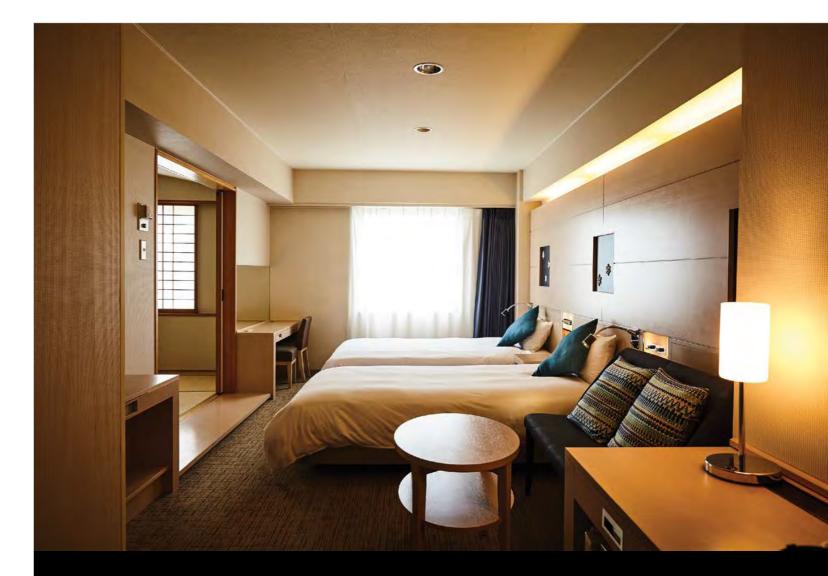

Choose ANA Crowne Plaza Osaka as your business base, or enjoy a vacation filled with sightseeing, dining and nightlife - all while staying in one of our comfortable guestrooms overlooking Naka-no-shima Park.

Travel Again!

Some of us are ready to explore the world in 2022! Now that we can travel again, let's look at the first big trip we have taken since the start of the pandemic, as shared by the WebBeds team and our travel agent partners.

Pile Gate. Dubrovnik. Croatia

Croatia is a famous Game of Thrones filming location and I've always wanted to visit the real-life fantasyland of King's Landing! Pile Gate is absolutely gorgeous with great medieval architecture! If you are visiting Dubrovnik, it is impossible to miss out on the opportunity of passing through the Pile Gate and indulging in the depth of the Old Town and its cultural heritage.

Yee Yen Thing

We visited the magical Mercusuar Cafe in Bandung, a medieval wonderland perched on the hills of Dago Pakar. We loved how it resembles Hogwarts, the wizarding school from the Harry Potter franchise. Feel the cool breeze as you enjoy spectacular views from above.

Sequoia National Park, California, USA

Going on a road trip is the best way to explore remote destinations at my own pace. I was so eager to get back to nature again that I visited five iconic national parks in California, and Sequoia National Park is my favourite! Fun fact: Sequoia is home to the largest tree in the world!

One of the things I missed the most during the pandemic was being able to attend live musical performances. I was extremely thrilled to be able to catch the spectacular musical, Hamilton, on my Melbourne trip. This 11 Tony Award-winning musical is a lyrical masterpiece from Lin Manuel and I highly recommend it to everyone!

DAY ONE

EXPLORE THE CULTURE OF OLD PHUKET TOWN

Phuket Town, the island's quaint capital, is the perfect place to uncover Phuket's Sino-Portuguese heritage. In the 19th Century, Phuket's tin mining industry attracted people from around the world and the island became a melting pot of cultures. This diverse heritage is reflected in the exquisite architecture of Phuket Town. Take a stroll through the old town, amid Chinese shrines and shophouses, discover mesmerizing markets and savour authentic culinary delights at Lock Tien, a bustling food centre.

VISIT THE CHALONG BAY RUM DISTILLERY

Like the islands of the Caribbean, Phuket has the ideal climate for growing sugar cane - the main ingredient in rum. Discover this native industry at Chalong Bay Rum Distillery, which uses local ingredients to craft an international award-winning spirit with a highly distinctive taste. Nestled on the island's quieter east coast, not far from Phuket Town, this distillery offers regular afternoon tours (every hour, 2-6pm), including the chance to sample the finished product in a refreshing mojito!

HIKE UP TO KHAO RANG VIEWPOINT

Away from the beaches, Phuket is blessed with rolling hills. Take a short sunset hike to the top of Khao Rang and soak up panoramic views across the Andaman Sea.

SPEND AN EVENING AT CHILLVA NIGHT MARKET

After dark, Phuket Town comes alive! Head to Chillva Night Market, a trendy and family-friendly attraction which features an impressive selection of food, fashion, arts & crafts and live music. Open Monday to Saturday from 5pm to 11pm, this is a great place to chill out and soak up the "sabai sabai" vibe.

DAY TWO

HIT THE BEACH!

In Phuket, every beach lover can find their perfect stretch of sand! Active travellers should head to Patong Beach, the tourist hotspot where a wealth of exhilarating activities await, such as jet-skiing, parasailing and more. Serene afternoons can be enjoyed at Kata Beach, which is ideal for snorkelling in the calm, clear waters. Or do you dream of a secluded sandy beach with precious few other visitors and no banana boats in sight? If so, take a trip to Freedom Beach.

COOL OFF AND SHOP AT JUNGCEYLON

After a long day at the beach, escape the heat and indulge in some retail therapy at Jungceylon, the island's main lifestyle mall, which is filled with Thai and international brands, fashion outlets and restaurants – all blissfully air-conditioned! Once you've finished shopping, you can enjoy a wealth of other family-friendly facilities including a cinema, trampoline park and bowling centre. Meanwhile, adults can ease their aching muscles with a massage at the onsite wellness centres.

TAKE IN A MUAY THAI BOXING MATCH

Muay Thai, or Thai kickboxing, is the country's national sport and is hugely popular all across the kingdom. Every evening, highly-skilled fighters battle it out at the Patong Boxing Stadium, the largest Muay Thai centre in southern Thailand. Whether you like martial arts or not, this offers an amazing insight into Thai culture, as you watch the many ceremonies and traditions that are deep-rooted in the sport, surrounded by excited locals. This experience will live long in the memory.

 \cdot

DAY THREE

TAKE AN ISLAND HOPPING EXCURSION

Phuket is surrounded by some of the world's most spectacular seascapes, including the maze of offshore islands in Phang Nga Bay, so make sure you take a day out of your schedule to explore these marine marvels. Head to the picturesque Phi Phi islands, swim in the sparkling sea and explore the colourful underwater world with a snorkelling trip. Trips may also let you uncover unspoiled islands like Koh Pai, also known as Bamboo Island, or discover wall paintings in Viking Cave.

ENJOY A SOOTHING SPA EXPERIENCE

Thailand is the spiritual home of wellness and no trip to Phuket would be complete without a spa session. Whether you're seeking an invigorating Thai massage, which targets deep-rooted tension in the entire body, a relaxing head and shoulder massage, or even a soothing oil treatment, there are plenty of professional wellness centres to choose from. The award-winning Spa Burasari offers a wealth of therapies using natural products that are handcrafted by highly-skilled spa specialists.

IMMERSE IN THAI CULTURE AT PHUKET FANTASEA

End your Phuket vacation in style at Thailand's biggest cultural theatre: Phuket FantaSea! This amazing attraction, which covers 30 acres, will immerse you in Thai heritage and mythology. Packed with a multitude of activities and entertainment, including a carnival village with games, handicrafts, shopping and a themed Thai restaurant, this is a truly awe-inspiring experience. This unforgettable evening culminates with a breath-taking, award-winning Las Vegas-style show in a 3,000-seat theatre. Simply spectacular!

WHERE'S THE BEEF?

Discover the Finest Meats in Asia Pacific

Asia Pacific is home to some of the world's foremost food cultures, and this makes it a focal point for gastronomy tourism - the up-and-coming trend for uncovering the planet's ultimate culinary experiences. At the heart of many epicurean adventures is meat - cooked however you like it, from sizzling steaks and slow-roasted joints to steaming stews and heavenly hotpots.

So, vegetarians look away now! In this edition of Travel Aggregator, we take a closer look at the finest meats in Asia Pacific.

SOUTH KOREA

Jeju Black Pork

The World Heritage island of Jeju is famous for many things, such as its spectacular mountains, coastal cliffs and lava tubes. Visitors to this captivating Korean destination can also discover one of the world's finest varieties of pork: Jeju black pork. Commonly cooked on a barbecue to seal in its exquisite taste, this fatty, tender meat simply melts in the mouth. Head out and find an authentic local restaurant to savour the real thing.

LOTTE HOTEL JEJU

LOTTE HOTEL JEJU

Lotte Hotel Jeju is a five-star hotel located in the main Seogwipo area of Jeju, overlooking the ocean and surrounded by attractions. Foodies can experience a combination of traditional Jeju flavours and international favourites at The Canvas, the all-day dining destination, or head out into the vibrant local streets where several restaurants specialise in Jeju black pork. The spa, outdoor pool, rooftop terrace and designer shops provide countless ways to unwind.

JAPAN

Kobe Beef

Japanese wagyu beef is famous around the world for its sheer quality, including the iconic marbling that makes the meat so wonderfully tender. The best known of all, Kobe beef, must be produced from cattle born and raised in Hyogo Prefecture. Usually served as premium steaks, shabu shabu (thin slices of beef quickly boiled in a broth) or sukiyaki (wagyu simmered in a hot pot), this is an unmistakable taste sensation.

HOTEL MONTEREY KOBE

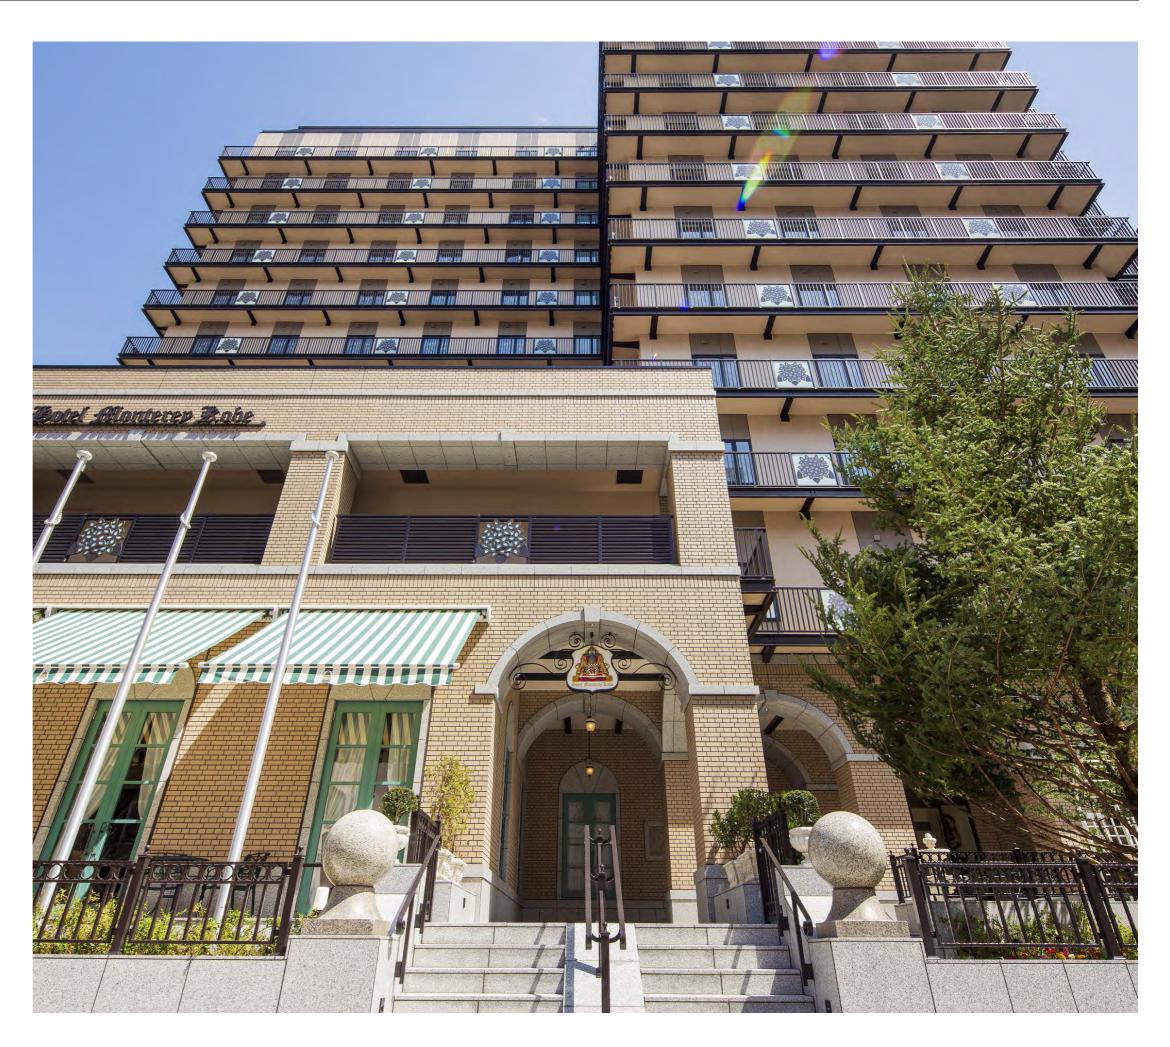

HOTEL MONTEREY KOBE

Hotel Monterey Kobe is designed to demonstrate the rich cultural heritage and charm of Kobe.

Located just a few minutes' walk from the city's Sannomiya Station, it is surrounded by a seemingly endless network of streets and steakhouses that specialise in Kobe beef. When travellers are not exploring this smart port city, they can be immersed in Japan's wellness culture at Trinite, the hotel's second floor public bath and sauna.

NEW ZEALAND

New Zealand Lamb

New Zealand is home to approximately 30 million sheep - six times the human population! So, it is no surprise that this country knows how to farm the most fabulous lamb. It is often said that happy animals produce the tastiest meat, and the sheep in New Zealand have plenty of space to roam free and graze happily on pure, lush, unpolluted grass. Joints of meat are often roasted with herbs until soft and succulent.

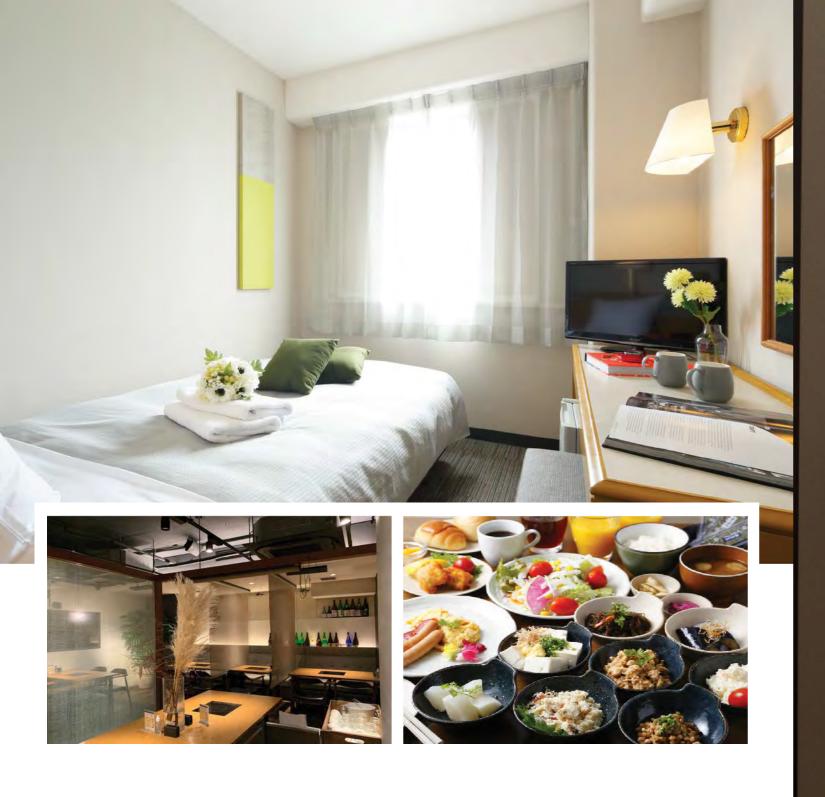

QUEENSTOWN HOUSE BED & BREAKFAST AND APARTMENTS

Queenstown House Bed & Breakfast and Apartments is situated in the heart of New Zealand's spectacular South Island, between magnificent mountain ranges and overlooking languid lakes. Queenstown is a major centre for gastronomy tourism and the city has a wealth of restaurants dedicated to lamb. This four-star hotel, which has previously hosted MasterChef New Zealand, lies just 200 metres from the city centre and frames elevated views of Lake Wakatipu.

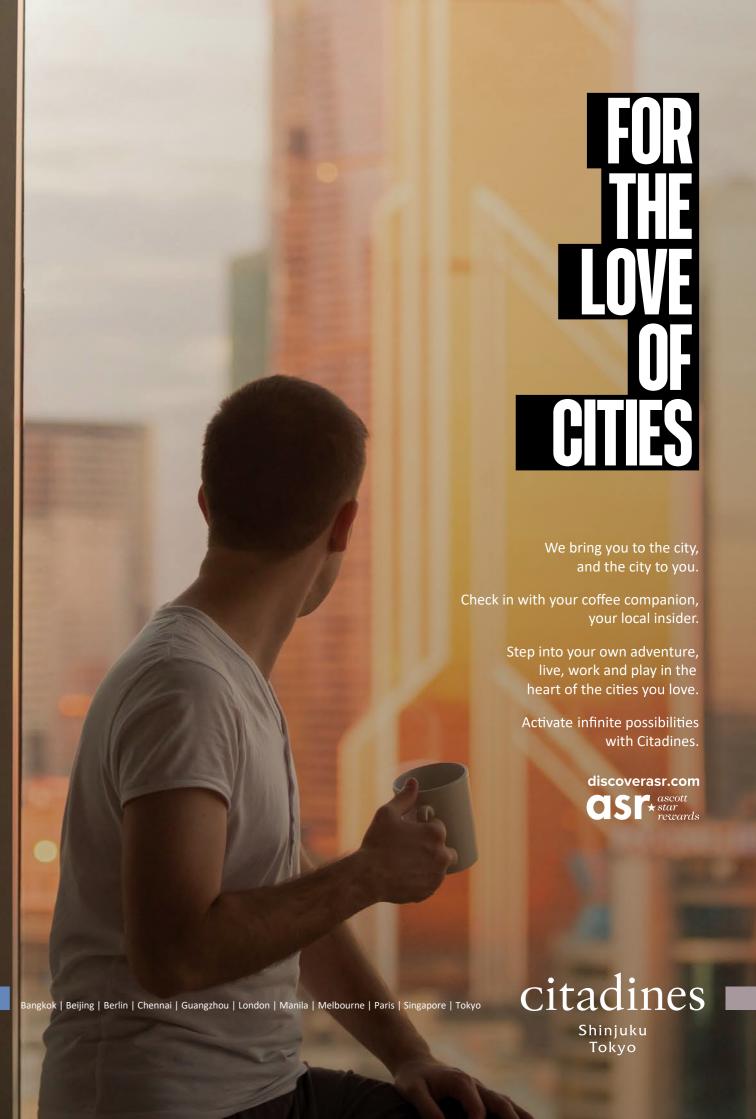

Hotel Resol Machida, well-known for its proximity to great restaurants and attractions, is an excellent choice for rest and rejuvenation whether it is for a business or leisure trip. Conveniently situated in the southwestern part of Tokyo, guests have easy access to major cities such as Shinjuku and Yokohama.

Restaurant Shishimaru serves a buffet spread of healthy Japanese breakfast each morning and Kyushu region's specialties for dinner.

Ask the Inside

WebBeds Insider is an interactive platform that provides the latest insights, opinions, giveaways and more exclusively to WebBeds users in Asia Pacific. In this dedicated space, we reveal insider tips from Asia Pacific's top travel experts to keep you inspired!

This month, Yvonne from GCR Travel reveals what she looks for when booking a hotel for her customers.

66 Location is the most important factor when booking a hotel for customers.

- Yvonne Teoh

GCR Travel & Tourism Sdn Bhd

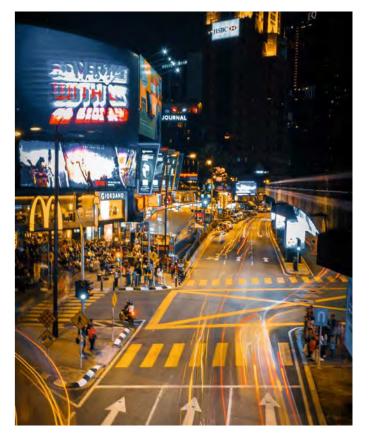

Most customers prefer to explore the area around the hotel; they like to discover nearby attractions and taste local cuisines that are within walking distance. For example, if a customer is booking a stay in Kuala Lumpur with friends or family, I would recommend a hotel in Bukit Bintang, where there are many accommodation options for all budgets.

Bukit Bintang puts you close to the centre of Kuala Lumpur, with modern shopping malls, upscale restaurants, street hawkers and lively nightlife.

For foodies, a trip to Jalan Alor, the city's most famous hawker food street, is a must!

Shopaholics can head to Pavilion Mall, Sungai Wang Plaza, and Berjaya Times Square, and partygoers can explore Changkat Street or Jalan Mesui Street. Getting around the city is also very convenient with both a monorail station and an MRT station at Bukit Bintang.
